VirtualAgility Acquires IP and Assets

March 17, 2005 VirtualAgility Inc., an employee owned company, announces the acquisition of the Intellectual Property and all assets of Agility Management Partners, Inc.

The Board of Directors of VirtualAgility is pleased to announce the acquisition of all rights and title to the intellectual property of the patent-pending Agility Team Office software product developed by Agility Management Partners Inc. An employee-owned company, VirtualAgility has renamed this product and is focusing the VirtualAgility ConOps WorkCenter primarily on the interoperability challenges faced by the government market.

Stuart Rudolph, President of VirtualAgility, said of this acquisition, "This product delivers situational awareness right out of the box, and that's what all levels of government agencies need. ConOps WorkCenter enables interoperability and coordination within and among agencies to organize, plan and track all of their mitigation, preparation, response and recovery activities. And it allows authorized users to decide what they need to simplify their jobs, and to build it as needed with no programming whatsoever."

The original software product was developed as a result of feedback gathered from multiple levels of executives and managers in over sixty Global-1000 companies, and best practices research analyzed by Harvard Business School faculty at the turn of the century. Executives across all industries talked about needing to get everyone on the same page to plan and execute strategies and initiatives. This product employs a single user interface to deliver the "business knowledge that matters," and can help all industries in various ways, and especially government where multiple agencies have difficulty working together.
